

Invitation

to bring together individuals and groups who work actively on different approaches for a

Threefold Structuring of the Social Organism

Are you interested in taking some practical steps towards this aim?

- The impulse is to create an overarching formulation of Threefold Organisation of the Social Organism to which as many initiatives and individuals as possible can subscribe.
- This invitation is to engage in working together to reach a formulation for a 'Public Call' on this matter.
- The aim is that this 'Public Call' would be signed by those, who strive for, or support, the implementation of a 'Threefoldness' within the administrative structure of contemporary society.
- In time a mutual commitment and concerted effort will be able to create a firm foundation for approaching and informing the wider public. The initiative will be more effective when accompanied by a wide campaign of information, combined with the collection of signatures.
- We call for individuals to take on the coordination in their respective local, regional or national areas where various emphasises will surely arise.
